Dead Body Carried to Scene of Discovery, Is Coroner's Theory

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Discovery of the body of a dead man with the back of his head caved in at the head of a flight of stone steps in the rear of a grocery at 1837 Lombard street, led Coroner T. B. Weiland and several detectives from headquarters to proceed hurriedly to the scene for an investigation this morning.

Chief Deputy Coroner Joseph Kelly, who went out on the case, believes that murder has been done, and it is his theory that the dead man had been carried down the narrow alleyway alongside the grocery and placed in the position where he was found, that led to the sending out of the upper office man.

Seven Men Killed in Coal Mine Explosion

GREENVILLE, Ill., April 5.—Seven men are known to have perished in an explosion in the mine of the Shovel Creek Coal Company near here today. Ten are missing. Bodies of seven have been recovered. The explosion occurred 200 feet underground and a quarter of a mile from the main shaft and is believed to have been caused by black damp being set off by a miner's lamp. Only a small part of the mine was damaged.

Zeppelin Criticizes Airship Captains

ROMANSHORN, Switzerland, April 5.—Count Zeppelin is not satisfied with the manner in which his airships are being handled. He called together one day this week his assistants and the captains of the dirigibles now at the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen and criticized them on several scores. The count said that the full power of the Zeppelins had not been employed and that longer raids than any made heretofore were possible. He also said that there was too much of a disposition to wait favorable weather conditions. He believed that an attack upon London had been delayed unnecessarily. The count also is understood to have criticized his captains for retreating from hostile armies.

German Ships Hit Mines; 2 Go Down

LONDON, April 5.—"A dispatch from Madrid, Sweden," says Reuters' Copenhagen correspondent, "asserts that two German coasting steamers during the last few days have struck floating mines and sunk in the Baltic sea, in immediate proximity to the route between Trelleborg and Sassnitz, with which points traffic has been temporarily suspended. The crews of the steamers were saved."

Dardanelles Fight Renewed by Allies

LONDON, April 5.—A dispatch to the Times from the island of Mytilene, dated Saturday, says: "The allied flotilla has been driving off Mytilene since Thursday. Some firing in the direction of the Dardanelles was heard yesterday and today which points to the continuance of the offensive in that quarter."

Dutch to Prevent Misuse of Flag

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The Netherlands government has notified the United States that any foreign ship using the Dutch flag or using other means to make a pretense of possessing Dutch nationality, will not be allowed to depart from or pass through waters under the jurisdiction of The Netherlands.

TURK GUNS DESTROY NELSON

Warship, Stranded at Dardanelles, Is Battered to Pieces

German Submarine Is Factor in Sinking Two More Vessels

BERLIN, April 5, by wireless to Sayville.—A report received in Berlin from Athens says the British battleship Lord Nelson, stranded inside the Dardanelles straits, has been destroyed by the fire of the Turkish guns on shore. This information was given out today by the Overseas News Agency.

A council of war held by the British and French admirals, the Athens dispatch continues, decided to postpone the attempts to force the Dardanelles on account of the insufficient strength of the land expedition.

The dispatch contains the first intimation of the loss of the British battleship Lord Nelson. Her name has not been mentioned in any of the dispatches concerning the Dardanelles operations.

She was 410 feet long, displaced 16,500 tons and was built in 1906. She was armed with four 12-inch guns, ten 9.2-inch and thirteen 3-inch guns and carried a complement of 865 men.

'NO CHANGE,' IS GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN, April 5.—By wireless to Sayville.—Included in the reports given out today by the Overseas News Agency is the following: "Dispatches received in Berlin from Constantinople say there has been no change in the Dardanelles situation. "The Russian fleet, after its operations before the Bosphorus, undertook March 30 a further attack on Eregh, a Black Sea port in Asia Minor. A total of 2000 shots was fired. Nine barges in the port were sunk and four houses on shore were damaged. There were no casualties and coal is coming from Eregh as usual. A Russian aviator was driven off by fire from the shore. The Russian fleet retired at noon. "A message received here from Athens estimates at more than 20,000 the number of Anglo-French troops landed on the island of Lemnos, near the entrance to the Dardanelles."

Sell Booze at Games Of Baseball? Surely! Assembly So Votes

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—A policy of non-interference in the sale of liquor at baseball grounds was adopted by the Assembly today, when by a vote of 41 to 17 it defeated T. W. Wright's bill abolishing so-called "booze cages." The bill alone affected the San Francisco Pacific Coast League ball grounds, where spectators are permitted to partake of liquid refreshments.

The entire San Francisco delegation voted solidly against the measure. Schmitt, Ryan, Pendergast and Byrne spoke against the passage of the bill. All declared that the legislature had no moral right to pass laws affecting the liquor regulations of a single community. Wright said he had introduced the bill at the request of San Francisco citizens.

YOUTH FEARS DISGRACE; SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Pounding out a panel with her fists, and breaking into her son's room to find him a suicide, Mrs. M. Riordan, of 1312B Filbert street, has an agonizing experience this morning. The young man, Daniel M. Riordan, 23 years old, cashier for the Detmer Woolen Company, had killed himself by gas asphyxiation, leaving a note indicating that he feared disgrace. Whether or not he was short in his accounts with the firm, the manager professes not to know, but he was the sole support of a widowed mother, and a note attached to $50 in currency reads: "Dearest mother: I prefer death to disgrace. "Your loving son, "DAN." Riordan returned home this morning at 3 o'clock. As was his custom, he tipped into his mother's room and kissed her good night. "Goodby, mother," he said, soothingly. "Good night, dear," was her reply.

At 9 o'clock this morning, when the young man failed to come from his room, Mrs. Riordan detected the odor of gas. Going to her son's room, she found the door locked. Frantically she beat her fists against the panel until it gave way and she unlocked the door. Riordan lay dead in bed with a gas tube in his mouth. The note was beside him.

A second envelope was addressed to the Detmer Woolen Company. It contained a long series of figures with the numbers of certain accounts. "I do not know whether or not young Riordan was short in his accounts," declared the manager of the firm. "Of course, he will make an examination of his books. We would be foolish if we did not. I believe that he was a fine young man. It will do no good to talk about any possible disgrace now. He has a widowed mother, and she would be the one to suffer."

Miss Virginia Joliffe to Wed Col. Jackling

The rumor that has kept San Francisco society persistently interested for the last few weeks has been justified today by the announcement of the engagement of Miss Virginia Joliffe, well-known San Francisco belle, to Colonel Daniel Jackling, millionaire vice-president and managing director of the Utah Copper Company, Salt Lake. Yesterday, though neither Miss Joliffe nor Colonel Jackling were to be seen, it was known that both attended a family dinner last night and that Jackling's private yacht Cypress had been fitted for sea and ordered ready for sailing today or tomorrow. These facts gave rise to a report that the wedding was a settled affair of the immediate future.

Government Demands Indemnity for Ship Sunk by Germans

Ambassador Instructed to Convey Note to Kaiser's Govt.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The American note to Germany on the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser, Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was made public here today. It is very brief. It is confined principally to a recital of the legal aspects of the sinking of the Frye and in polite and diplomatic language suggests that Germany make "reparation."

This is the text of the instruction to Ambassador Gerard: "You are instructed to present the following note to the German foreign office: "Under instructions from my government, I have the honor to present a claim for $228,089.54, with interest from January 28, 1915, against the German government on behalf of the owners and captain of the American sailing vessel William P. Frye for damages suffered by them on account of the destruction of that vessel on the high seas by the German armed cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, on January 28, 1915."

FIERCE FIGHTING IS RULE FROM CALL OF TIME TO LAST ROUND

RINGSIDE, Havana, April 5.—Jess Willard won the heavy-weight championship of the world by knocking out Jack Johnson, the colored champion, in the 26th round of their bout here today. It was Johnson's fight all the way until the 22d round, when his vitality left him because of the hard pace which he carried during the early rounds. Then the giant plainsman opened his heaviest attack and in the next few rounds carried the battle away from the black man and toppled him over with rights and lefts to the body and blows to the face.

Seventeen thousand persons saw the combat, and when Johnson crumpled upon the floor from a fierce right swing to the jaw, the crowd burst into the ring and remained until the soldiers cleared the ring.

Johnson took the referee's count while lying on the ropes, but the moment after Referee Welsh had given the decision the former champion got to his feet in time to escape the wild rush of excited spectators.

The knockout came so suddenly that the big crowd seemed as much dazed as Johnson himself. Up to the time of the final blow Johnson showed but few marks of the battle, but had begun to slow up and was perceptibly tired. Willard said as he was being escorted away that he was never hurt or in danger at any time.

Johnson said that he had no excuse to offer and that a "better and younger man had taken the championship title."

THROW APPLAUDS BOTH BATTLERS.

Jack Johnson entered the ring at 1:15 o'clock p. m. (1:40 New York time), being applauded by the enthusiastic Cubans. One minute later he crawled through the ropes, clad in a red bathrobe and wearing his usual "golden smile." The negro's first move was to ascertain where his wife was located.

Four minutes later prolonged yelling and cheering announced the appearance of Willard. The crowd went wild over the young fighting giant, screaming and handclapping as he crawled through the ropes. Willard wore a heavy red sweater, blue trousers and black sombrero.

In the challenger's corner were the following: Tom Jones, Willard's manager; Tex O'Rourke, Jim Savage, Walter Monaran. Johnson was seconded by Tom Flanagan and George Munroe, Sam McVey, Dave Mills, Bob Armstrong and Colin Bell.

The two pugilists shook hands for the movies. The ring gradually cleared of all except Referee Jack Welsh, seconds and principals.

Johnson objected to a woman spectator in the press ringside stand and she retired to an adjacent box. The negro, on stripping his bath robe, was shown clad in bright blue trunks and no belt. Willard wore dark blue trunks and an American flag as a belt.

The seconds from his quarters carefully inspected the gloves of both of the fighters.

Both pugilists weighed in on the scales in the ring. Willard's weight was 238, Johnson's 225. The negro appeared considerably heavier. At 1:28 the ring was ordered cleared. The pugilists then shook hands.

Time was called at 1:53 p. m. New York time.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

ROUND 1.—Johnson feinted and landed his left on Willard's jaw. Repeated uppers with right to Willard's jaw. The latter was very nervous. Johnson was laughing. Willard drove two lefts to the negro's body. Johnson drove right to Willard's body.

ROUND 2.—Johnson neatly blocked Willard's leads, feinting him out of position and scoring right and left to the ribs and swinging his right repeatedly to the negro's body. Johnson then hooked a left to the stomach. Johnson then landed three lefts to the body. Willard laughed. Johnson then drove Willard to the ropes with a tattoo of lefts to the face.

ROUND 4.—Willard lunged ineffectually. Johnson laughed at his clumsy efforts. There was much feinting. Johnson landed a left to the ribs and swung his right and left to the body and his left to Willard's face. Willard's lip was bleeding. Willard scored a left to Johnson's nose.

ROUND 6.—The negro was calm at the opening of this round. He

FRENCH CAPTURE
PEAK IN CHARGE

Battle of Hartmann's-Weilerkopf Vividly Described in Communication.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, April 5.—A vivid description of the battle of Hartmann's-Weilerkopf, which was fought on the morning of March 24, is given in an official communication today from the French command. The battle was the first phase of the struggle for the important strategic position, which had long been in dispute, and was fought in the French military reserves.

SPIRIT OF REVENGE.

"The spirit of revenge was now aroused by the French command to attack during the remainder of January and February, these operations were carried out and on March 5 an assault was made. The German trenches were subjected for two hours to a heavy artillery fire and our men succeeded in capturing the strongest German blockhouses and a portion of the line of trenches. The enemy made four vigorous counterattacks on March 5 and two on the morning of March 6 and 7, but was repulsed by our fire.

"On March 17 we attacked again, but on March 23 the greatest effort was made under tremendous fire from our 'blockhouses' and a number of other positions, including many rapid fires. Trenches could be seen falling and also portions of German bodies lying high in the air. Our infantry, with a bound made a heroic charge, pouring like a living stream into the two lines of trenches under a wall of fire.

"The work of fortifying the conquered trenches was begun and the German counterattacks, although violent, were not sufficient to drive out our men, who continued to look forward to the other lines of German fortifications, confident of an ultimate victory.

CHANCE FOR ARTILLERY.

"The night of March 23 passed without counterattacks and the morning dawned without the usual fog, allowing a splendid opportunity for our artillery. The artillery and infantry surrounding the mountain were eager to begin the final assault, which had been planned and awaited for three months.

"Observers reported at least three lines of German fortifications and trenches between our position and the summit. A general bombardment was begun by our artillery of all calibers at 10:30 o'clock, continuing until 2:30 and sweeping everything before it. Large pine trees were felled, and the German blockhouses and batteries and defenses. The ground was strewn with dismembered bodies of soldiers.

"At 2:35 o'clock, with a tremendous rush, our troops made a concerted effort, charging the German position and capturing all before them. They reached the summit shortly after. On the highest point, despite the continuous rain of shot and shell, one of our infantrymen 'aved the flag triumphantly, signaling to the others that the position was ours and now to direct the fire to the eastern slopes. The Germans, utterly put to rout, dropped their arms in flight, we capturing what remained of one company—eighty men."

"The note says that during the attacks of March 21 and 25 more than 400 prisoners were taken. The number of French soldiers killed is not yet known.

"Our success was pushed over the crest and our trenches were established on the further slope, giving us the whole German observation," the French observer says.

"Many acts of individual bravery were reported," continues the report.

TURKS LOSE CRUISER:
HITS RUSSIAN MINE

By Associated Press.
LONDON, April 5.—The sinking of the Turkish armored cruiser Medjidieh, reported from Petrograd to Reuters' Telegram company, is a semi-official communication from Sebastopol to Petrograd, says that the Medjidieh struck a mine near the Russian coast last night and went down.

The Medjidieh was a member of the Turkish Black Sea fleet which has attacked Russian ports on several occasions and sunk Russian vessels. On January 31, it was announced at Petrograd that the Medjidieh, with the Turkish cruiser Midilli, formerly the German cruiser Breslau, had been discovered near Sebastopol by the Russian fleet, but escaped.

The Medjidieh was an American built ship, having been laid down in Philadelphia in 1903. She was 331 feet long and 42 feet beam and had a displacement of 2,272 tons. She was armed with two six-inch guns, eight 4.7-inch guns, six three-pounders, six one-pounders and two torpedo tubes. Her complement was 302 men.

War Summary

Notwithstanding official denials, it is believed in Rome that there is a basis for the report that Turkey and possibly Austria are considering the initiation of peace negotiations. In this connection significance is attached to the presence in Switzerland of David Pasha, Turkish minister of finance. Rome dispatches say his denials that he is on a peace mission should not be regarded seriously. Official denial was made at Vienna last week that peace negotiations were being considered.

An official statement from the Turkish war office says that the Turkish fleet has sunk two Russian ships in the Black Sea, near Odessa. It is said also that a mine sweeper which attempted to approach the entrance to the Dardanelles was destroyed. Serbian losses in the border fighting with Bulgarian irregulars are placed at 125 men killed and wounded. The Bulgarian force, it is said, amounted to about one and one-half regiments.

Loss of another member of the allied fleet which is attacking the Turkish coast, was reported from Athens by way of Berlin. The British battleship Lord Nelson is said to have been stranded in the straits and then destroyed by the Turkish forts.

A German submarine sank the British steamer Olive off the Isle of Wight yesterday. The Russian vessel whose sinking was made known last night was identified today as the bark Hovboken. The crews of both ships escaped.

The French war office announced that in the British raid on German positions in Belgium last month two German submarines were destroyed and the naval construction yards at Hoboken damaged badly. It is said forty German workmen were killed and sixty-two wounded.

The German official statement says several attacks by Belgians and French yesterday were repulsed. In the east no new developments were reported beyond the repulsing of a Russian attack near Suwalki. The American note concerning the measures decided upon by Great Britain and France to cut off the German submarine lines will be made public tomorrow morning.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 5, by wireless to London, 5:30 a. m.—A dispatch from Constantinople says the German war office has been issued by the Turkish war office:

"Our fleet yesterday sank two Russian ships, the Provident of 2600 tons and the Vastochnaia, of 1500 tons, at Odessa. Our batteries of Kum Kaleh sunk an enemy mine-sweeper which attempted to approach the entrance to the Dardanelles."

Neither the President nor Vastochnaia are mentioned in the latest shipping records.

RUSSIAN SHIP SUNK.

LONDON, April 5, 4:12 a. m.—A Russian bark, the name of which is unknown, was torpedoed yesterday in the English Channel, according to the Daily Mail, which says the fifteen members of the crew were saved.

VESSEL HITS MINE.

LONDON, April 5, 1:55 a. m.—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm says the German steamer Grete Hemsoth has struck a mine in the Baltic and sunk and that several members of her crew were drowned.

The Grete Hemsoth was a vessel of 1564 tons. She was engaged in traffic between Sweden and Germany.

AMMUNITION SHIP LOSS.

NISB, April 5.—An official statement issued here today says: "The Austrian ammunition ship Belgrade sank in the Danube opposite Ritopek on the night of March 30. An explosion was caused by the Belgrade by the Serbian gun-fire. Of a crew of nearly 40 only two were saved."

TWELVE ARE DROWNED.

PARIS, April 5.—Twelve members of the crew were killed by the destruction of the unidentified Austrian steamer which blew up in the Danube on the night of March 29, after striking a mine near Ritopek, according to a dispatch from Nish to the Havas Agency.

The character of the wreckage has given rise to the belief that the steamer was especially armor-plated and loaded with a large quantity of munitions and artillery supplies destined for Turkey. The wreck of the steamer was carried by the current within range of Serbian artillery at Ritopek. Another explosion followed the bombardment of the bulk and the wrecked vessel sank.

Before leaving Berlin, the captain is reported to have reminded the members of his crew that they had an important mission to fulfill and each sailor received a bonus of 100 francs ($20) in gold.

LONDON, April 5.—The steamer City of Bremen, of Dublin, has been sunk by a German submarine off Wolf Rock, in the English Channel, about 15 miles south of Lands End, Cornwall.

Four members of the crew of the steamer were drowned. Twelve survivors have arrived in Penzance. Available shipping records do not contain the name of the steamer City of Bremen of Dublin.

CRUISER REPORTED SUNK.

LONDON, April 5.—The sinking of the Turkish armored cruiser Medjidieh is reported in a dispatch from Petrograd to Reuters' Telegram company. This dispatch says that a semi-official communication was received today from Sebastopol saying that the Medjidieh struck a mine near the Russian coast last night and went down.

RADERS OF SERBIA
BULGARIAN REBELSFollowing Repulse on Border, Revolutionists Attack Town
in Greece.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, April 5.—The Petit Journal says that Serbia has protested to Bulgaria because of the invasion of Serbian territory by a force described as Bulgarian irregulars. While couched in moderate terms, the protest is said to request the arrest and imprisonment of the persons responsible for the raid.

Further details of the incident received today confirm the report that the invaders were driven away from the railroad station at Strumitsa, the Serbian town near the Bulgarian border, where the attack was made. The railway station master at Strumitsa reports that the line to Ghevgelija is now clear of the raiders and apparently has not been damaged. Serbian frontier guards who pursued the fleeing irregulars retook the two cannon which had been captured.

SIX BODIES FOUND.

Six bodies were found in the railway station at Strumitsa. The extent of the losses inflicted upon the attacking force is unknown, but is believed to have been considerable. The bodies were picked up and buried a number of miles.

This is said to be the fifth incident of its kind since the beginning of the European war, and there is much speculation in Paris as to the exact significance. It is felt that the attitude of Bulgaria on this occasion will indicate what policy she intends to pursue.

The Havas Agency received today from Nish, Serbia, a dispatch saying that the losses of the Serbian troops were sixty killed and 33 wounded, including five officers.

BULGARS ROUTED.

LONDON, April 5.—The Serbian legation in London received today the following official dispatch from Nish: "The Bulgarian irregulars were driven back from Strumitsa. The fight was short. When reinforcements arrived, the Bulgarians were routed. The Strumitsa station and the invaders fled in the direction of Bulgaria."

"Our troops, pursuing the enemy, found thirty of their dead and it is presumed that others were carried away. We lost fifty killed."

A semi-official communication from Nish to Reuters' Telegram company states that the invading force had scattered along the Serbian frontier villages and compelled the inhabitants to remove to Bulgaria, taking their goods with them. It is also stated, though not confirmed, that the invaders set fire to the Serbian blockhouses at Plavotch and Boraki.

REVOLUTIONISTS' WORK.

By Associated Press.
ROME, April 5, via Paris.—D. Rizov, Bulgarian minister to Rome, expressed the opinion today that the incident on the Serbo-Bulgarian border was the work of Macedonian revolutionists in Serbia, who are opposed to the Serbian regime in the territory gained in the Balkan wars, in which the fighting occurred. M. Rizov asserted that the Bulgarian government was in no way responsible for the affair and that his only desire was to preserve neutrality.

M. Ristich, the Serbian minister, took issue with M. Rizov's statement. He said that, having spent thirty years in the region concerned, he knew it thoroughly and could affirm that the Macedonians in this part of Serbia had no desire to oppose the present order of things. Responsibility for the incident, he asserted, might be determined by considering to whose interest it would be to provoke such an outbreak. This, he said, pointed clearly to Bulgaria, which, by occupying the left bank of the Vardar river, could threaten to cut Serbian communication with Saloniki, the only source from which the country could bring in its supplies. Already, he said, communication by telegraph and telephone had been cut.

RAID ON GREEKS.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, April 5.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Saloniki says: "The Bulgarian irregulars who were driven back from the Serbian border, later descended upon the Greek town of Doiran (about 35 miles north of Saloniki) and Greece is rushing important reinforcements thither and to other frontier points, prepared for any eventualities."

"Another band of two hundred Bulgarian irregular troops which attempted to cross the Grecian frontier was dispersed with the aid of a machine gun and a numerous dead and wounded on the field."

"It is alleged that in the Serbian villages through which they passed the Bulgarians committed atrocities."

"The Serbian frontier guards have now been armed with field guns and machine guns."

ITALY AND GREECE
PURCHASE HORSES

By Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—Both the Italian and Greek governments will ship horses purchased in the United States through Gulf ports. It is announced here, Italian purchases will be forwarded through New Orleans, the first shipment consisting of 1200 artillery horses leaving today on board the British steamship Portuguese Prince. Greek shipments will be forwarded from Galveston, the first shipment of 1100 cavalry horses to go on the British steamship Rappa hancock, which sails today from New York to take on her cargo.

RUSS AIDED AUSTRIANS: HAS TONGUE CUT OUT

By Associated Press.
LONDON, April 5.—Reuters' Petrograd correspondent sends the following: "A dispatch from the commander-in-chief received tonight (Sunday) says: 'In the region of Zalesk, during the night of Saturday, the Austrians heavily bombarded one of our fortifications with heavy guns, their fire killing almost all the defenders. The Austrian infantry then attacked and occupied our positions but they were almost immediately destroyed by a counter attack made by a Russian company.'

The Russians found in a trench one of their comrades named Makukha, who had been acting as a telephone operator, and, having refused to give the enemy information, his tongue was cut out."

especially by Austria and Turkey, without consulting Germany, the report that David Pasha, Turkish minister of finance, who is now in Switzerland, is on a mission of peace, finds credence here.

It is pointed out that David Pasha was one of the first Turkish envoys to undertake at Ouchy, Switzerland, the conclusion of an Italian-Turkish peace and that he conducted his preliminary negotiations by round-about methods through neutral diplomats. While he has denied emphatically that he is at present engaged in a similar mission, it is considered here that this denial should not be taken too seriously, because he scarcely could admit at this time that his government seeks a cessation of hostilities. Similar denials were made by him when he first undertook the task of bringing about an agreement between Italy and Turkey.

ROVING BULGARS
ATTACK GREECE

By Associated Press.
LONDON, April 5, 12:40 p. m.—The roving band of Bulgars driven out of Serbia after its sudden fall, has penetrated Greece at three points, according to Saloniki dispatches. The English press sees in this episode the possibility of developments which may mean a new phase in the amoung Balkan situation. Advice reaching London by way of Rome, however, asserts that Bulgaria has agreed to give full satisfaction to Serbia. All the Balkan nations, as well as Italy, are awaiting the outcome with interest.

Meanwhile Greece is massing troops along the Bulgarian frontier and Bulgarian reservists, according to advices from Saloniki, have received orders to join the colors. In the countries at war against Germany, Austria and Turkey these recent developments are blamed upon German intrigue.

The Carpathian front is the quarter in which a decision of first importance is expected soon. London seems to be confident that the Russians will break through into Hungary. The Austrians are said to be suffering from lack of supplies and the fight at this point.

ITALIAN TROOPS
MENACE AUSTRIA

By Associated Press.

CHIASSO, Switzerland, via Paris, April 5, 2:20 p. m.—The assembling of Italian troops on the Austrian frontier is continuing with the greatest activity. All houses of peasants in the districts bordering the confines affected have been occupied by soldiers. This information reaches Chiasso from Italian sources. It is learned from the same sources that some more important military activity is under way. Information on this point is refused transmission by the Italian censors.

RUSSIA SWEEPS
AUSTRIAN FRONT

By Associated Press.

LONDON, April 5.—The defense of the Carpathians is the last effort Austrians make, says the Times correspondent with the Russian forces, telegraphing from L'voff, "and if her troops fall there, nothing can prevent the Russian invasion of Hungary."

Austria, realizing this, is pouring into the firing line every available man that can be armed and uniformed. The last batches which have arrived are poorly clothed and have had little training and they surround in huge holes on the small provocation. Their officers are young and inexperienced and are unable to lick into shape the almost raw recruits placed in their charge. It is reported that thousands are dying in the trenches for lack of suitable clothing, from cold and exposure."

SECRETLY SAVE
AUSTRIAN FLAGS

By Associated Press.

PETROGRAD, April 5, 1 p. m.—A remarkable feature of the surrender of the Galician fortress of Przemyśl was the fact that not a single Austrian flag was captured, says the Russian Star. The secret of their disappearance was discovered, this newspaper says further, through the confession of a Slav war prisoner, who arrived at Kiev. They said that the night before the surrender all the flags were taken into strips. These strips were numbered and distributed among individuals who hid them in the linings of their coats and caps.

They were required to take an oath to restore them upon their release from captivity, but that the flags might be reconstructed, thus giving the remnants the right to a further corporate existence.

A search of the prisoners revealed many such fragments of flags. In the hands of a burr belonging to General Thomachin a flag was found intact.

OFFICIAL WAR
STATEMENTS

By Associated Press.
PETROGRAD, April 4, via London, April 5.—The following official communication was issued today:

"On the front to the west of the Neman river, during the night of Saturday, the 4th, the Russian forces, supported by the 1st and 2nd divisions of the 1st Army, after a stubborn fight with German cavalry, which was supported by infantry, made a successful counter-attack, driving the enemy and capturing many of the enemy and capturing many others. They drove the Germans from the region they were occupying and are now pursuing them."

"In the Carpathians on Friday we gained a great victory in the sector of the front leading to Bartfeld, and also in the region between Mezlador and Lutsk."

"During the day we captured on the Carpathian front more than 100 soldiers and three guns and three machine guns."

"In the Zalesk region the Austrians essayed an offensive, but all their attacks failed completely. We captured two officers and about 100 men."

"In the direction of L'voff, after the grave defeat sustained on the 2nd, by portions of our cavalry, who defeated an irresistible attack while on foot, the Austrians evacuated our territory and withdrew to their frontier, where they are fortifying themselves."

"In the battle of the 7th our cavalry showed unexampled bravery in attacking while about enemy infantry units with bayonet, sabre and lance."

"In the Gulf of Odessa on Saturday a Turkish cruiser, believed to be the Medjidieh, struck one of our mines and blew up and sank."

By Associated Press.

PARIS, via London, April 5, 1:45 p. m.—The French war office today gave out a report on the progress of the fighting which reads as follows:

"The military authorities have received precise information concerning the results of the bombardment carried out by British aviators in Belgium on the 26th of March. A driftable hangar at Berghem-Sainte-Anne was seriously damaged as was the dirigible airship sheltered there. At Hoboken the Austrian naval construction ship yards were gutted, two German submarines were destroyed and a third damaged, while forty German workmen were killed and 62 wounded."

"There is nothing to add to this otherwise to the report given last night."

By Associated Press.

PARIS, via London, April 5, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The war office announcement concerning yesterday's events at the front, given out here today, says:

"The Belgians attempted to concentrate reinforcements in the direction of Driel Grachten, which had the exception of some houses on the northern side has been in our hands since April 3. The Belgian troops were repulsed by our artillery fire."

"French attempts to advance in the Argonne forests were prevented by artillery fire. A strong attack by the enemy against our position on the heights west of Boureuilles, south of Varennes, broke down a short distance in front of the German fortifications. French infantry charges west of Pont a Mousson were unsuccessful, while the Germans gained some ground in the Forest de Letre by blowing up several mines."

"A Russian attack on Marianiopol (northeast of Suwalki) was repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy. Otherwise there was no event of importance on the whole eastern front."

By Associated Press.

LONDON, April 5.—A Saloniki dispatch to the Daily Mail says that refugees from Constantinople confirm the report that the cruiser Goeben, formerly of the German navy, but now a Turkish warship, was badly damaged by striking a mine in the Bosphorus, and returned to dock with a 17-foot hole, which the German workmen have not been able to repair properly, on account of a lack of steel plates. They filled the hole with 250 tons of concrete, but this cracked on the first trial. The refugees deny the story that the Goeben's guns have been dismantled.

ITALY TURNS DOWN
VON BUELOW PLANGerman Ministers Prepare to Leave Rome: Send Effects Hence.

By Associated Press.
ROME, April 5.—The difficult passage to the frontiers between Italy and Austria has had to do with the German plan, who is continuing his efforts to bring about an adjustment. He is now understood to have proposed a new solution of the boundary question. It is that the territory west of Austria might cede to Italy be occupied by Switzerland during the remainder of the war and when peace is concluded.

This suggestion was advanced as a result of the negotiations made on behalf of Austria to the effect that it should agree to cede to Italy sufficient territory to bring about a satisfactory peace.

It is generally felt that the ambassador's latest plan is impracticable. The exodus of German and Austrian subjects throughout Italy continues.

Denial is given to reports that Prince von Buelow has even considered leaving Rome, although it is understood that some of the belongings of the prince and members of his staff have been sent to Germany. The Austrian ambassador to the quirk of peace, Italy desisted from this plan, also, and Prince von Buelow accordingly proposed that Switzerland assume temporary guardianship of the territory in question.

It is generally felt that the ambassador's latest plan is impracticable. The exodus of German and Austrian subjects throughout Italy continues.

BRING THE RIGHT PEOPLE HERE.

A letter to The Tribune, published in the Forum on our editorial page yesterday contains a very excellent suggestion. The writer asked why it would not be a good plan to have a carefully selected committee from the Commercial Club appointed for the purpose of looking up and entertaining visitors who come to this part of California during the Exposition period. It is well known that a great many people of real importance are coming to California for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the country and perhaps seeking opportunities for investment. These people, in the main, have no official standing and do not seek notoriety. Oftentimes they are not among those who are dined and entertained by the Exposition officials. Among the people who receive most attention at the hands of the Exposition management and the City and State government officials are very many excellent persons, who, to put the matter plainly, come to California merely for the purpose of being entertained and who have no expectation of remaining here or of investing or taking the trouble to acquire useful information respecting the Pacific Coast. In other words, they are merely transient visitors of very little more value to the community than a band of strolling players. Fortunately for us and for the development of the country as a whole there are coming, too, a number of studious, thoughtful-minded men of affairs who have dealt successfully with the real issues of life and who are willing to participate in the life of substantial growing communities, provided calm reason and sober judgment warrant them in taking such action. It is men of this type who should be brought to Oakland and who should be shown the things which are worth while and who should be given the sort of information which an intelligent, active minded business man would obviously like to have. A carefully selected committee of truly representative, high class, intelligent citizens would do this community a vast deal of good by bringing the right people to Oakland and seeing to it that the advantages of this community are set in a proper light before them. Some of the most important work for the future of Oakland must be accomplished in this manner—not by the bringing of huge conventions and delegations, which are excellent in their way—but by bringing also men of real worth and intelligence and substance in very small numbers, one or two or three at a time, and taking them about quietly and systematically. This is the way business is done among individuals and corporations and this is one of the ways the people of Oakland must undertake to do it.

Announcement that there is a shortage of indigo in this country is not calculated to make laundrymen feel blue.

BIRTH REGISTRATION IMPORTANT.

Director Gilliland, of the Health Department of the City of Oakland is to be praised for his energetic efforts to obtain prompt registration of births within the municipality. The proper registration of births is not only important to the community, but to individuals as well. With respect to the first statement many facts can be cited as proof. Persons trained in the study of vital statistics have, following long study of conditions, adopted as the most accurate standard of the healthfulness of a community a formula in which the number of babies dying under one year of age during each calendar year is compared with the number of births in such community during the same time. Unless total number of births is known it is impossible to compare the conditions of such community with others where this standard is accurately determined.

During the Baby-saving show last October the health department conducted an investigation into the completeness of birth registrations in Oakland. It was found that during the previous year, of children dying under one year of age, whose death certificates showed they were born in this city, more than 30 per cent had no birth certificate on file in the health office. Of about 300 investigated more than 23 per cent were not registered and of those registered nearly one half were improperly recorded and were unnamed.

The most fatal period of life is the first year. Children passing this period have good chances of living. Cities are awakening to the fact that it is not children born, but children saved that count. Many cities are sending nurses to homes, of the poor especially, teaching parents how to avoid harmful conditions during the first year. In order to do such work—which is highly essential—it is positively necessary that the health departments shall be informed of each birth as soon as it occurs. No physician can correct conditions that have obtained for months, and the time to save the baby is at the first sign of debility of any sort. The duty of the welfare nurse, as she is called generally where such nurses are employed, is to show how to give proper care. She cannot do this unless she knows where babies are to be found and unless each birth has been properly registered there is small chance of finding them.

Personal reasons for birth registrations are many and frequently of vital importance. The telegraphic news for months has contained items alluding to Americans who have been held as spies in Europe because of inability to procure birth certificates. Requests are received daily at the local health office for certified copies of births presumed to be registered here, but very frequently no such record can be found. One case in point is cited is that of an Italian who will be drafted into the army, although born in Oakland, because he cannot produce a certificate.

Insurance, right of inheritance, proof of parentage, legal age and many personal reasons often depend on birth registration and as the country becomes more densely populated these reasons will multiply. The demand for such is much greater than it was a few years ago and Oakland officials are often requested to furnish such information.

Many persons believe the publication of births in newspapers constitutes a certificate. Such is not the case. The laws of the state designate the health office as the proper place and provide a special form.

The arguments advanced are pertinent and urgent, and the officials of the local board deserve every encouragement in the effort to compel birth registrations by all parties, no matter of what rank or station.

Mr. John Brisbane Walker, a somewhat eccentric but philanthropic man, who formerly owned the Metropolitan magazine, proposes to give forty acres of ground near Mount Morrison, Colorado, for the purpose of establishing a home for newspaper men. Mr. Walker's suggestion is an excellent one and it ought to be seized upon by some of our millionaires who have more money than they know what to do with. The earnest, conscientious, serious-minded writers for the press and for the periodicals of the United States are just as much deserving of consideration and generous treatment as are the workers in any other profession. Mr. Carnegie has very properly made provision for the payment of pensions to college and university professors upon their retirement from active work and it would be eminently fitting if he or some other man of large fortune should not only endow a home or resort for invalid journalists but provide, under proper restrictions, a pension fund for those who have served for twenty-five years or more in the field of newspaper endeavor.

In the midst of war's alarms it is interesting to observe that the Daily Echo, a new evening journal which has been started in London, had an initial issue of more than a million copies. The average daily circulation of this paper, which is in reality the evening edition of the London Daily Chronicle, is more than 500,000. The aim of the new London Daily Echo, as expressed by its editor, is to "print all the news worth while, without allowing any political policy to interfere." We make mention of this for the reason that the aim of the Echo corresponds entirely with that of The Tribune. The advent of a new paper in London at this time which can command the daily support of 500,000 people shows quite conclusively that the important opportunities in journalism are to be found in the evening field.

A very interesting experiment in co-operative or collective exportation is going to be tried by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association. The point of this experiment is that it gives opportunity for small exporters and manufacturers and shippers of farm products to send their goods abroad with the least possible expense and under favorable conditions. Expenses are divided. The market which the Illinois people have in mind is that of Russia. They have become aware of the enormous opportunities that exist in Russia for the introduction and sale of American goods and their plans contemplate the opening of co-operative salesrooms and sales agencies in Petrograd and other Russian cities. These agencies will be under the direction of a man who has had many years of experience selling to the foreign trade. Heavy expenses will be done away with and the charges for transportation, under this arrangement, will not amount to more than $300 a year, payable in monthly installments. The idea which furnishes the foundation of this plan is a sound one and should be kept in mind by all persons in this community and on the Pacific Coast, who may now or hereafter contemplate engaging in foreign commerce.

The important labors of the women in the Berkeley elections, and the great effectiveness of their vote and influence, goes to prove that there is nothing with which the feminine eternal cannot cope. Nor can politics affect it any more than war. Whether she votes, or whether she doesn't, a woman will always be a woman just the same. And, in spite of Kipling, nature has yet to improve upon her. Only she, herself, has ever been able to do that.

The wonderful and extremely artistic exhibit of Canada at the Exposition has been an inspiration to California, and the local movement for a like permanent exhibition to present the marvels of the Golden State, at all future expositions wherever held, is a project worthy of our best attention, something that should not be taken up to be let drop again next week or the week after. In this instance Canada is certainly showing the world.

The discovery that Ambrose Bierce, the brilliant journalist, who was lost for so long and was supposed to have been murdered in Mexico, is on the staff of Lord Kitchener helping direct the fighting of the allies, does not in the least surprise this journal. A good newspaperman or correspondent has usually as many lives as a cat, and if that brilliant Bierce brain, with its remarkable clear quality, is not able to suggest to Lord Kitchener something useful then we shall be surprised, indeed.

The Canadian exhibit at the Panama Pacific Exposition, as we have before observed, is very widely and justly admired. It is without doubt the most interesting governmental exhibit at the Exposition and it is not strange that it has aroused enthusiasm on the part of those who most properly wish to promote the material welfare of California. In this connection Mr. William Hutchinson, one of the Canadian commissioners to the exposition, very pitifully says:

There is no reason in the world why California cannot have an exhibit just as good as that which now represents the Dominion of Canada at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

California has the goods, it has the money and it has the people. All it needs to do is to go ahead, just as Canada did—get the exhibit and put it together.

It has paid Canada to do this, and it will pay California.

To be sure there is no good reason why California should not have as varied, as stimulating, as interesting and as valuable an exhibit of a permanent nature as Canada. The only reason that we have not such an exposition is that no one has had the energy, the ingenuity and the persistence to design or plan or finance it. Canada has beaten us in this respect and we may as well frankly acknowledge it and show that we have enough wisdom left to take a lesson from her by getting diligently at work to prepare a permanent exhibit that shall graphically depict the resources and possibilities of California.

The information has recently been developed by means of a compilation of official figures and data that the cost of the election in New York state last November was more than $4,073,000. More than half of this huge sum came from the public purse. The balance was contributed by the various candidates and their friends. It seems to most persons that the cost of popular elections is rapidly becoming excessive and burdensome. But no practical means of reducing this expense seems to be forthcoming at present.

THE OAKLAND MARKET.

(A Morning Impression—Types One Sees.)

By BILLIE GLENN.

The Oakland market at nine o'clock is a morning scene caught in the act as one might say. At eleven o'clock its traffic is in full swing, its life is complete and at five, or a little before, it has just made its last gasp and is in the first quaff of slumber with its voice of brass at rolling quaver. I walked into it out of a pear-blossom street, where the morning's soft market street with youth. A pleasant old lady greeted me from a stall. "How'd'ye do, sir, a nice bright morning." It wasn't a remark, proceeding as it did, of course, of a lady, or anything of the kind. It was pure good-will and I thanked her. She was that motherly type that always insists on a second helping. A girl with Latin eyes and white Amazon arms stood behind the stall, and a customer's eyes. She had not said a word, possibly because he was a man. But I knew that he would buy before he left. In the next stall a young fellow called attention to his asparagus. Yet he did not bawl. In Oakland no one seems to do that. How fresh those fish looked piled up there! I recalled early mornings in the woods of Quebec. A giant negro introducing a flux of business promenade through the stalls, calling "good morning" with gleaming teeth to everyone. He patted the head of a golden-haired child; he stepped on the tail of a dog that shouldn't have been; he picked up a parcel for a lady most dangerously tightening his trousers in the act. If he had sat down beside a pumpkin, his optimism would have outshone it. Nothing in the world could have jarred him for a moment. He passed gloriously on and out, and the eyes of a weech seated on a box, melancholy mixed with her dark complexion, followed him with a sort of wonder. And is it not wonderful for a human being so early in the morning to be so happy. By this time the stalls were becoming crowded with asthmatic breathing of automobiles outside. Mildly had come to do her own buying, even with limousine and chauffeur. The faint incense of the boudoir tinged the air. And with mildly had come all of the species representing the many indefinable degrees between the very rich and the very poor. But in this market place there was no snobbishness. The concourse was a smiling lesson in democracy.

STATE PRESS.

TRUE, TOO TRUE!

Potter Valley's correspondent of the Ukiah Democrat prefaces his weekly grail with the following:

"After the mighty peals of thunder have passed; after the clouds and storm have vanished, then comes the glorious sunshine. You will hear the songs of birds, the lowing of a distant herd, all full of music for him who hath ears to hear."

PREVARICATOR, ADMITS IT.
Red Bluff's People's Cause resents an imputation by his loathsome contemporary in the appended diatribe:

Reinsurance, with cut rates, was effected upon all the school buildings of the city by a special committee of the Board of Education, consisting of Directors McMillan, Reed and Moody. Andy Stone made an offer to place the insurance at 30 per cent of the original premium. Harry Gordon induced the majority of the fifteen agents present to make a bid of 50 per cent. He could not secure unanimous consent, however. The committee decided to place the business at a 75 per cent cut with a large number of companies, which accepted the policies.

KNOX SEES RESCUE OF NATION.

Voters Rebuilding Republican Party And Business Reviving, He Says. (Pittsburg Dispatch in Washington Post.)

"The political rescue of the nation that is necessary to its economic rescue," said Philander C. Knox, formerly secretary of state, tonight, "begun last November, when the voters rebuked and radiated, as previously they had rebuked all reactionaries, is coming through the people themselves rebuilding a Republican party equally free from both evils."

"It was a great thing for the country that under the Roosevelt administration courage was found to refuse to 'run amuck' after the successful inauguration of the sweeping and necessary reforms of that time."

"Confidence, or rather the reasons for confidence, are what we need. We are more than half way through a perilous four years. That is another reason why hope and courage and, therefore, business, are beginning to revive."

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain, multised coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The only man known to have asked Jay Gould for the return of any other place is dead at his home here. He was Joseph J. Marrin, 78, a lawyer. In the panic of 1872 the victims of Gould's manipulation went to Mr. Marrin and asked him to recover the money they had lost. Gould made several appointments with the lawyer, but they were broken. One day Marrin stepped up to Gould and demanded an explanation.

MAY COLLECT KOWALSKY ACCOUNTS

Administrator of Late Lawyer Files Judgments Against 200.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Julius C. Gamage, administrator of the estate of the late Colonel Henry Kowalsky, former attorney and bon vivant, and one time adviser to King Leopold of Belgium, today filed with the county clerk judgments against 200 or more men, some of them prominent in San Francisco's business and social life, which are many years overdue. Some of the judgments date as far back as 15 years, and are now payable with compound interest.

Full collectors may now go the rounds and collect on these judgments. Included in the list of San Franciscans against whom bills may be filed for collections on the old judgments are the following:

D. L. Hayden, Marin county capitalist; judgment of $233,000, secured in 1892 by the San Francisco Lumber Company.

Julius Schultz, baker; judgment of $100 on a suit brought by H. N. Tilden, produce man.

Daniel Norcross, dealer in military regalia; judgment of $352 on suit brought by Daniel Keough in 1895.

E. G. Winters, race track man, well known in the halcyon days of Emeryville; judgment of $250 on a suit brought by defendant firm of Henshaw & Field, and payable in installments.

William Van Laak, broom manufacturer; judgment of $232 on suit brought by the redoubtable Jake Rener in 1898.

J. N. Dooley; judgment of $127 on suit brought by W. Haker & Hinz, milliners, in 1900.

Anna Jahn, costumer; judgment of $350 on suit brought by Joseph Shan on a promissory note.

L. L. Prosser, druggist; judgment of $110 on suit brought by Thomas Williams, tailor, for clothing.

Henry Kowalsky's estate; judgment of $297 on suit brought by Thomas J. Ables, the Colonel's boyhood friend and schoolmate at Tomales, on a promissory note.

The papers escaped the fire only because Kowalsky had his effects moved from his former office downtown to his brother's home before the big fire. The Kowalsky house was not burned, and it withstood the cosmic disturbance that preceded the flames.

As far as known, these are the only remaining records of the proceedings in the justice's court prior to 1906. How they came into Kowalsky's possession is an angle of the discovery that has not been unraveled.

After Kowalsky died Gamage, as the administrator was told of the tin boxes that had been moved to Joseph Kowalsky's house. The boxes had been there ever since Kowalsky went to Belgium as special adviser of King Leopold. Joseph Kowalsky cleaned the Colonel's office at the downtown building, thinking that the Colonel would return permanently to San Francisco.

In the cellar was also found a safe which had been moved from a place on the floor above and evidently thrown downstairs. It had not been broken open. A revolver and a set of burglar's tools were the only clues discovered.

TRUSTY ACCUSES PRISON GUARD

Confession Involves Patrolman Riley in Opium Traffic Among Prisoners.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Patrolman Nicholas J. Riley, assigned as a guard at the city prison and as chief assistant to Lieutenant Thomas Tobin, was directed by his star this morning and charged before the police commission with smuggling opium to prisoners. The accusation grows out of a confession on the part of a trusty, Ray E. Miles, who told Chief of Police White that Riley had given him opium to sell to prisoners at $2 a dose.

Riley has been Tobin's trusted major domo and was detailed to the prison at the lieutenant's request. This morning Tobin had occasion to reprimand Miles and threatened to send him to the county jail for giving a knife and fork to a prisoner in violation of the prison rules. Miles was insolent and Tobin told him to pack up his things. As he was getting his belongings together, he was found that he had an extra pair of shoes which were not among his effects when he was booked. In one of the shoes were found five packages of opium.

Lieutenant Tobin says that Miles confessed that Riley had given him the drug. How long this state of affairs has gone on the police are now investigating. Riley has been a trusted and well liked officer and has been in the prison for eighteen months. He has been on duty duty and it has been his particular detail to look after the trusties and attend to the work of seeing to the comfort of prisoners.

He will have to stand his trial before the police commission.

BLUE SKIES FOR EASTER SUNDAY

Fashion Parade and Church Services Are Greeted by Pleasant Weather.

The Easter sky dawned a deep and cloudless blue yesterday and from all the houses wound a stream of church-bound citizens in gala attire. Color dotted the streets, glimmering gowns and vivid parasols glinted back the sunlight, gay hat-streamers and the white frocks of children blew in the light wind. From all the temples of worship drifted the voices united in buoyant anthems, the sonorous tones of pipe organs and the high poignancy of sopranos.

In every Christian church in Oakland special services and special music marked the anniversary of the resurrection of Christ. From altars inundated with flowers and ferns pastors preached the story of the ascension and in an ocean of fragrance, floated the inspiring phrases of great sacred music.

Every edifice had been converted into a sweet scented spectacle beauty by masses of silvery Easter lilies, the choicest blooms of gardens and by greenery from canyons and conservatory.

This note of floral splendor was continued down the aisles and in the pews by the riotous gaiety of this year's spring millinery. It was more than ever a triumphant spring religious fete.

Motors were lined up along the church corners, in augmented array for this annual ceremony. And as usual among the kneeling crowds within the houses of worship were thousands who are to be found there but once in an infrequent interval.

In preparation for yesterday's observance of Easter the many choirs and singers of the city had been rehearsing choruses and solos during the day, culminating in most cases with solemn high mass at noon. At all the leading Protestant churches, special divine services either gave musical recitals for the morning or evening program, confining the pastor's main address to the alternating service.

At the First Congregational church, Lemare oratorio in the forenoon packed the church to the doors with listeners. At the First Presbyterian a great crowd heard another oratorio, "The Daughter of Jeptha" at night. And in every other Christian place of worship men, women and children flocked in equal eagerness to hear the word of the day.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The message from the Algonquin said the last heard from the Prins Maurits were the words: "Sinking fast." The Algonquin's message added:

"No later news was received from her, but all hands are supposed to have perished."

The Algonquin of the Clyde Steamship Company, which is on her way to New York from West Indian ports, having left Turks Island on March 30, sent word that she expected to reach here Monday morning.

The Prins Maurits, which left New York Thursday night, was reported to have been carrying four passengers. She was commanded by Captain H. J. Vanderpoort. The steamer was of 1323 net tonnage, 285 feet long, 38 feet beam and about 10 feet in depth. She was built in Hamburg in 1900.

The passengers who sailed on the Prins Maurits were Mrs. F. T. Wallace of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. of Hayti and a Mrs. La Roche of Wilmington.

Word that the Prins Maurits was in distress came in a wireless message, supposed to have been relayed by a British cruiser. She reported her latitude and longitude and asked for prompt assistance. The Algonquin, including the Algonquin and the City of Macon, went to her assistance.

Last night's message came from A. A. Boom, traveling inspector of the Royal Dutch West Indies Company. The message was for information in response to a message of inquiry sent from the company's offices here today.

The Prins Maurits, it was said by officers of the line, carried a crew of from forty to forty-five men.

MANY ARRESTS BY TRAFFIC BUREAU

Twenty-five Alleged Offenders Captured by Newly Created Division.

The police traffic officers made twenty-five arrests yesterday, following the creation of a traffic bureau, with Corporal John Fahy at its head. The prisoners were released on bail ranging from $5 to $25, according to the offense. Among those arrested were Miss Abbie Greenwell, Dr. Theodore Penn and Dr. Pope C. Hartman.

The arrests under the jitney bus ordinance were as follows: Harold M. Clarence Jones, Robert Ringstrom, Dave A. Grout, Chris Christopher and F. Obiessmer.

Arrests for not stopping behind a stopped street car were as follows: John Christopher, John C. Ship, John Kierman, Jas. A. Daugh, Jas. Freeman, Hector McNeill, Howard G. Ellis, Herman Bredlow, Leonard Beardsley, Dr. Pope C. Hartman, Wm. R. Catter and Abraham Koppelman.

SUPERVISORS TURN DOWN GRAND JURY'S ADVICE

MARTINEZ, April 5.—Disregarding the recommendations of the 1915 grand jury that five bills for carpenter's work and painting on the Contra Costa county exhibits at the exposition for $4000 in excess of what should be paid, the supervisors this afternoon passed the claims of the Redwood Manufacturing Company, the Antioch Lumber Company and E. A. Marshall of Richmond. The grand jury also recommended that the county commissioner John Birmingham be asked to tender his resignation and that a new commissioner be appointed. This was also turned down and the supervisors expressed their satisfaction with the displays and the manner in which Birmingham had handled the project. This ends what has been one of the bitterest matters brought before the supervisors in several years, it being claimed that county exhibits cost too much money and were not representative of the county.

John Birmingham submitted a report from R. L. Holt of Berkeley, a lumber and mill expert, in which it was claimed that the carpenter and painting bills were excessive.

TO RUSH CONSTRUCTION OF CONCRETE BRIDGE

EASTWARD, April 5.—Work will be rushed in the construction of a re-enforced concrete bridge to take the place of the demolished wooden bridge over the San Lorenzo creek at Bridge street. The wooden bridge was washed away by recent flood waters. The Board of Supervisors, through the county engineer, has advertised for the construction of a new $10,000 bridge.

MANY DROWN IN EASTERN STORMS

Great Ship Missing After Sending S. O. S. Call for Help.

By Associated Press.

NORFOLK, Va., April 5.—Every possible effort, both from land and sea, was being made today to learn the fate of the Royal Dutch West Indies Company's summer Prins Maurits, believed to have foundered off Hatteras with a loss of about fifty persons in the great storm that lashed the south Atlantic coast Saturday.

Coast guard cutters, warships and other craft searching for the Maurits yesterday found no trace of the vessel near the spot from where she sent out wireless calls for aid, and it was feared crew and passengers shared the fate of fifteen of the crew of the tug Edward Luckenbach, drowned off False Cape, when the storm claimed the tug as a victim.

No news of the Maurits had come early today from coast guard stations. Barges fared worse than other vessels in the storm. Many broke away from tugs and were driven ashore. Lightships were torn from their moorings and driven before the wind, shore resorts were swept by wind and waves and beaches were strewn with wreckage of small craft.

In shipping circles it was feared that the great storm had taken the ship, which broke from a tug last Tuesday, were lost.

THRILLING RESCUES.

Many thrilling rescues are reported. The captain and crew of six of the schooner Alice Murphy were taken from their log-cabin by the tug, the steamer Lenape's crew after they had been lashed to the mizenmast for thirty-six hours. A small boat made the perilous trip from the Lenape to the Murphy and back again with seven men.

The Morgan line steamer Comus rescued the crew of the barge Tanager, adrift for more than twenty-four hours. The crew of the schooner M. E. Cross were taken from their vessel by the Diamond Shoals Lightship. The barge San Antonio was towed into Charleston by tugs. Other barges found adrift were towed in.

The fury of the storm lasted as it moved up the coast. Ten men were lost off the Delaware capes when the tug Cumberland lost barges it was towing, and as far north as the Massachusetts coast came reports of heavy shipping damages.

S. O. S. 'SINKING FAST'

NEW YORK, April 5.—The message from the Algonquin said the last heard from the Prins Maurits were the words: "Sinking fast." The Algonquin's message added:

"No later news was received from her, but all hands are supposed to have perished."

The Algonquin of the Clyde Steamship Company, which is on her way to New York from West Indian ports, having left Turks Island on March 30, sent word that she expected to reach here Monday morning.

The Prins Maurits, which left New York Thursday night, was reported to have been carrying four passengers. She was commanded by Captain H. J. Vanderpoort. The steamer was of 1323 net tonnage, 285 feet long, 38 feet beam and about 10 feet in depth. She was built in Hamburg in 1900.

The passengers who sailed on the Prins Maurits were Mrs. F. T. Wallace of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. of Hayti and a Mrs. La Roche of Wilmington.

Word that the Prins Maurits was in distress came in a wireless message, supposed to have been relayed by a British cruiser. She reported her latitude and longitude and asked for prompt assistance. The Algonquin, including the Algonquin and the City of Macon, went to her assistance.

Last night's message came from A. A. Boom, traveling inspector of the Royal Dutch West Indies Company. The message was for information in response to a message of inquiry sent from the company's offices here today.

The Prins Maurits, it was said by officers of the line, carried a crew of from forty to forty-five men.

CHOIRS PLAN CONCERT FOR AUDITORIUM

The meeting will be held in the old chamber of commerce building. Plans will be discussed for the sacred concert by combined church choirs of Alameda county, which is to be given at the auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, May 2.

$80,000 FOR OAKLAND HARBOR

Plan to Complete First Unit of City Railroad by June 1.

Work was begun today in laying the first unit of the municipal belt line railroad, which is to eventually connect every wharf, dock, warehouse and shipping point of the city with every steam railroad that enters here. The work now being done is the laying of spur tracks on the space north of the quay wall, from Clay street to Myrtle.

The work is to be completed as soon as possible, that all may be in readiness for the opening to business of the first unit of the estuary quay wall on June 1. After the tracks have been laid, the city authorities will pave with asphalt the 150-foot street back of the quay wall. The foundation is about to be laid for the first of the city's big warehouses, which are to line the municipal water front.

For the present the tracks being laid will connect with the Southern Pacific Company's lines. Engines and cars of that corporation will be used by the city until the belt line railroad is completed, when a full equipment will be acquired by the city, and the municipal road will be connected with the Santa Fe, Western Pacific, Key Route, Oakland, Eastern & Antioch and other lines which enter the city.

One of the big advantages to shippers, industrial concerns and merchants is the fact that the freight terminals of the three big trans-continental railroads that have their Pacific coast terminals in Oakland are all within a mile of each other. The Santa Fe is just completing enormous sheds on its 30-acre tract at the foot of Alice street, where a ship has been built, and freight trains will be brought in on car floats from Richmond. The Southern Pacific freight terminal is at Fifth and Kirkham streets, and that of the Western Pacific is at Third and Harrison streets.

SAVE HORSES FROM BURNING BARN

Prompt Action by Officers Rescues Fear-Maddened Animals.

Lieutenant Bert Curtiss and Corporal Rumsch last night rescued eight fear-maddened horses from a burning barn at the rear of the Snow Cleaning and Dyeing Works. The fire had spread to the stables from a vacant house at 482 Forty-seventh street, which was totally destroyed by fire. The two men were aided in leading the horses to safety by Patrolmen O'Neill, Sanderson, Stebbins, Cox, Summers, Gilman and O'Connell.

The origin of the fire has not been determined. It was discovered at 9:40 p. m. A brief war at the west end of the building occupied by the cleaning and dyeing works saved it from catching fire. It was found difficult to fight the fire, as it is on the border of Temescal creek, and the firemen had to climb a steep bank with the horses. The vacant house was owned by Mrs. Isabel and 482 Twenty-first street. A fire occurred there March 26, but the police and fire departments agree that there was no indication of incendiarism.

The firemen worked hard to confine the fire to the dwelling, as it threatened that there were several tanks of gasoline in the cleaning works.

There was a small fire yesterday afternoon at the home of Frank Runie, 314 Grove street, caused by sparks from the chimney. The damage was about $25. The property is owned by G. Ferrara, 470 Union street, San Francisco.

SHOTS IN HAND.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The war between the Suesy Sings and Sen Suesy Yings in Chinatown has caused such an element of suspense that when a report of a shooting was waited for police headquarters the morning a half-dozen detectives and the Chinatown squad, hurried into the oriental section. At 1039 Grant avenue they found Lee Fook, who declared that he had shot himself accidentally. The "middle finger" of his right hand was hanging limp and a bullet had gone through the knuckle. He was hurried to the Harbor Hospital but still protested that he had shot himself, showing his gun with an empty cartridge as evidence. The police are still investigating.
